A message from Mr Westlake

What a wonderful week it has been at Kingswood. It has been a real pleasure to see how well the children are already settling into their routines and developing in their learning. I have been particularly impressed by the calm atmosphere across the school and the purposeful work taking place in classrooms.

We have also been working incredibly hard to continue improving our school environment. I must say that the commitment shown by our staff towards this has been excellent. There is a real determination across the team to make Kingswood the very best it can be for our children, and I am extremely grateful for everyone's hard work.

I am always available at the school gates in the mornings and afternoons, so please do come and speak to me if you have any questions, concerns or queries. I will always endeavour to help as best I can.

My ethos as Head of School is a simple one: everything we do and every decision we make must be in the best interests of the children. That principle will remain at the heart of everything we do at Kingswood.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend, and I look forward to seeing everyone again next week.

Best regards,

Andrew Westlake
